What is Will's Way?

Will's Way is a spiritual retreat open to God's children of all ages who are hurting. Our work is faith based, for our only hope is through the strength of our own religious conviction. We offer you a chance to heal with others who have walked your path ahead of you. We want to help you heal by offering you love and inspiration from our volunteers, our pets and our Father.

All retreats and camps at Will's Way are offered at no cost to our visitors. We want all people who have suffered loss/tragedy to have the opportunity to share an experience conducive to healing and an affirmation of life and God's love. We rely on your help to reach this goal and hope that you will support our mission in whatever way you are able—whether through gifts, as a volunteer, or with your prayers.

Will's Way is a 501 (c)3 non-profit corporation, all donations are tax deductible.

Your charity brings hope for those in crisis from personal tragedy.

It is the mission of Will's Way to aide in providing a secure, spiritual and successful pathway for healing after tragedy or crisis.

The vision of Will's Way is a retreat/healing center which honors GOD by providing a loving atmosphere conducive to healing and recovery.

Testimonials

When my family and I unexpectedly lost our “man of the house” on 01/06/2010, we were emotionally lost. As anyone may imagine to lose someone is hard... yet to lose someone and not be prepared could be detrimental for everyone. The events that surrounded my husband's death was painful enough, however, not knowing how to handle any of the emotion was overwhelming--that is until I was informed about Will's Way via Kea Costley at the Circle of Care, in Valley, AL.

It was upon meeting Aunt Re that I instantly felt a calming reassurance to KNOW that my children would get what I was unable to give them... a constructive and positive way of release that could restore their broken hearts. It was at the camp that my 5 and 7 year olds visited 6/29-7/1/2010 that upon their return they came home relaxed and happy again and no longer sad, whiny, and angry.

They were given bubbles to “blow their fears away”, among other tools to help them to release and not to suppress their hurts. I thank God for Kea's suggesting Aunt Re and Will's Way for my family and I to overcome this turmoil. And, although I now understand that this is a lifelong journey, I am comfortable in knowing that through Christ ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE and that my family and I are healed. Thank you again Aunt Re and Will's Way...

Thank you to EACH AND EVERY ONE OF YOU that are in this GREAT organization. May God continue to bless each of you...Always!!!

“...I can't describe on a day to day basis how God works but I know that his presence is here. Without God and Will's Way I don't know where I would be. I feel honored to get to be able to watch as adults and children come here and learn how to grow and work through their hurts. The healing process can be long and hard but when you know that there are people wanting to help guide you and are willing to listen to you and stand by your side, it makes a world of difference. Sometimes just to know that there is somebody that has been where you are and that they are willing to help makes it a little easier.

So my question to you would be “Why not come by and experience God's peace? Come by and see where you ‘fit in’?”
